

(Big) Chungionship

The Chief Chungus Championship where you can prove that you are the biggest Chungus

General Information

In teams with up to three players, you compete in a variety of games and challenges to earn points. We have prepared a variety of mini tournaments where you can display your broad range of gaming skills. All games played will be free to play.

Some examples include

- 2v2: Rocket League, World of Tanks (and many more!)
- 1v1: Rock-Paper-Scissors, chess (any many more!)
- Free For All: A race (and many more!)

But that's not all! You can also complete challenges during the entire LAN. They include little tasks you can complete, as well as creative projects. Whether a challenge has been completed will be decided by the organisers of the LAN.

Examples for challenges include

- Creative challenges: Model a BigChungus in Minecraft (and many more!)
- Task: Pay a visit to the person sitting at the entrance (and many more!)

How do I earn points?

In general, you get

- +1 point for participating in a fun tourney
- +1 point for finishing in the better half of all teams competing in this tourney
- +1 point for winning a tourney
- +1 point for completing a challenge
- +1 point if a creative challenge is completed especially well

Note that you can only earn points once per team – we will count your best result.

Can I still participate in the League of Legends tourney?

We try to avoid overlaps between the Chungionship and the other tournaments. For this reason, we minimize the number of other tournaments and try to include as much as possible in the Chungionship. Also, there will be enough chances to earn points, so you don't have to participate in every event of the chungionship.

Prizes

The two or three players of the winning team will be gifted a Big Chungus Mystery Chest containing a few little surprises 🤗
